RECALL FIGHT INDICATED IN WEST COVINA

Lively Election Also
Looms at Coming
Monday's Polls

Notices of intention to recall Robert H. Neely, chairman of the city council of the city of West Covina, were posted and published this week, as a result of charges brought by a number of citizens that he had not conducted the affairs of the city according to law.

In the notice, signed by Thomas Friend, a citizen, it is stated that Neely accepted compensation from the city of West Covina for services rendered and material furnished, contrary to law, as provided in chapter seven, article two, section 885 of the general laws of the state of California governing municipal corporations of the sixth class.

Neely has, been for many years one of the most prominent citizens in that area, serving on many civic boards and on the directorate of La Puente Walnut Growers association. The notice published this week declares that petitions will be circulated asking for his recall after May 1 of this year.

In the meantime, West Covina, in common with all other sixth class cities, will hold its regular election for city councilmen next Monday, April 9.

W. L. Griffith, who served out an unexpired term because of the death of Joseph Drendel, has announced that he is not a candidate. Two incumbents, Arthur Yarnall and Frank Baldner, are standing for re-election, and besides these there is a new ticket consisting of Percy Jackson, J. K. Hedges and L. Reeg, all property owners and well known throughout the locality. There are three positions to fill. A personal endorsement of these last three names was issued this week by E. F. Gilgore, George King and Thomas Friend.

Neely and Charles H. Coffman are the hold-over members of the board.

Porter Kerckhoff to Open Law Office

Attorney Porter T. Kerckhoff, son of the late Anton P. Kerckhoff, whose large ranch was pioneered on East Puente street, announced this week that he has leased two large front rooms over the Covina post-office on Badillo street, and will open law offices for general practice in about two weeks.

The rooms were being renovated this week under the direction of the owner, Dr. J. D. Reed. Attorney Kerckhoff has been practicing law since his admittance to the bar in 1923, although during the past year he has been residing at his ranch home on Covina boulevard. He was associated with other lawyers in an office in Los Angeles. He was born at the ranch in Covina, and attended the local schools.

Electric Shop Sees
Business Uptrend

Business is taking a decidedly uptrend, according to Sam Stead of the Stead electric shop, and the coming season promises to be the best one in a long time, especially in the sale of electric household equipment.

"We have been greatly surprised at the number of people who are interested in General Electric refrigerators," said Mr. Stead this week, "and we are pleased that this year's model has reached such a point of perfection because we know that our customers will be more than satisfied with their purchase. It is encouraging to know that people are really beginning to buy again, for this means more work for all of us."

Quiet Vote Returns
Reed and Allison

In the election for high school trustees last Friday, Judge Thomas B. Reed, clerk of the board, received 447 votes in the Covina district, and Herman Allison, 439; Baldwin Park, Allison 519, Reed 539; Charter Oak, Allison 54, Reed 51; West Covina, Allison 24, Reed 24; total, Allison 1036, Reed 1081. Total votes cast, 2117.

Only a scattering number of votes were cast for other candidates. The Baldwin Park area, on account of a brisk fight for grammar school trustees, furnished a large vote. Reed and Allison are the incumbents, and the people evidently believed that there was no reason for a change, inasmuch as these men were willing to stand for re-election.

SEWER PROJECT HALTS PENDING FEDERAL AID

City Marking Time
Until Funds Are Released

Completion of Covina's sewer system met a snag with the abandonment of the CWA, according to reports given the city council at the regular meeting Monday evening.

Engineer Alva Smith of the project stated that one of the government officials told him Monday afternoon that the representatives of the federal government in charge of allotting funds for public works did not feel justified in giving Covina further aid until some arrangement was made for a sewage outfall.

This leaves the sewer system partly underground, and the balance "up in the air."

With the future government aid still undecided, even if disposal arrangements could be provided, there is no action the city can take at the present time, and the project will halt, to be revived as soon as additional funds for its completion are available.

With the streets torn up as a result of the work already done, and with several manholes uncompleted, and a danger in their present state, Superintendent Harry Snodgrass was instructed to hire the necessary men to complete the unfinished work, level off the dirt on the trenches, and haul away all surplus dirt in the streets.

Material that has been purchased and delivered along the route of the sewer will be put in storage, where it will be available when work is resumed.

The report of the engineer showed that approximately $40,000 has been spent on the sewer project, most of this being for labor furnished by the government.

New Style Shop
to Open Today

Covina has a new style shop, opened today in the storefront formerly occupied by the Elite apparel shop, 140 North Citrus avenue. The proprietors are Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Bell, formerly of Azusa, where Mr. Bell has operated the Bell dry goods store for ten years. He is a member of the Rotary club and was active in all of the civic affairs during his stay in Azusa.

The new shop will carry a line of women's dresses and suits in many styles and at a wide range of prices, so that any taste or purse may be met. A stock of accessories will be carried, and an invitation is extended to the women of Covina to visit the store and get acquainted with the proprietors and the stock that is offered.

'BUY AMERICAN' SLOGAN HIT BY SPEAKER

War Menace Seen in Nationalism as
Trade Policy

"If the United States wants war, the surest way to get it is to try to make ourselves economically self-sufficient," declared Graham A. Laing, professor of economics at California Institute of Technology, in a scathing denunciation of the "Buy American" and "Buy British" campaigns before a large audience at the Covina evening-high school forum last Monday night.

"The whole tendency of self-sufficiency is to stimulate the war fever rather than to prevent it. A first-class war is ready to break out in Europe at any time. The condition has been largely built up by attempts of various countries to make themselves independent of trade with their neighbors. The placing of embargoes on foreign-made goods has impaired friendliness to such an extent that national hatreds are rapidly being built up."

Professor Laing, whose lecture was entitled "Economic Nationalism," pointed out the fallacies in the arguments that we need to be self-sufficient because we are taking work away from our men whenever we import goods; and that we need to develop processes within our country in case of a war blockade.

He declared that the whole world has become our storehouse, so that we can draw on it as goods are needed. He stated that our industries are dependent on supplies from other countries; for instance, the automobile industry depends on 18 countries, leather factories on 22 countries, telephone equipment on 15 countries, and furniture on 25 countries. Some things could not be produced in this country at any cost; others, such as rubber, coffee, cosmetics and x-ray tubes, would be almost impossible to produce.

HEAVY EXPORTS

"Naturally, we can't hope to export unless we import. What would happen to the southern farmer if he lost his world market for tobacco and cotton? Few people realize that 50 per cent of our cotton is sold to other countries, or that we export 14 per cent of our automobiles, 36 per cent of our copper, 32 per cent of our oil, and 22 per cent of our agricultural machinery output."

England buys 80 per cent of her cotton from us. If we ceased to buy from England, she, of course, would stop buying our cotton," said Professor Laing, who then went on to show how bitterness and hatred are engendered by the breaking of normal trade relations.

AGREEMENT SEEN

The speaker thought the risk involved in building up an economic nationalism was entirely too great to make it worth while. He reached the conclusion that it could only be done at the high cost of destroying our civilization, and that while we might do it on the pretense of stopping war, we would only make war more imminent.

It is possible, thought Mr. Laing, that the near future may see a general international agreement, with a central body governing trade relations amongst the countries of the world.

DR. BALLARD COMING

Spring vacation will be held during the week of April 9-16, during which time there will be no forum meeting.

On Monday evening, April 16, the first in a series of three psychology lectures will be held in the high school auditorium. Dr. J. Hudson Ballard from Occidental college will be the speaker. These three meetings are free to the public, and all interested adults are invited to attend.

Camera Trip Taken
Into Death Valley

Temperature was just about one hundred degrees for most of the time in Death valley, during a trip last week, according to Ronald Taylor, who, with Elbert Griffith and his son, Alfred, made a camera trip to the famous sink, and on to Boulder dam.

The weather was just right for Death valley, according to the trippers, who said they enjoyed it. The two men are members of the valley amateur motion picture club, and have accumulated a large amount of picture travelogue in the form of films.

AN APPRECIATION

Merchants of Covina appreciate the patronage of the people of the community, as shown by the report of sales taxes collected in the various cities and towns of the state, which puts Covina well above other cities of like population in the amount of taxes paid.

We appreciate the confidence our customers have placed in us and will strive in the future, as we have in the past, to deserve this confidence by caring for the needs of the community to the best of our ability.

Puente Valley Walnut Growers Meet Tuesday

La Puente Valley Walnut Growers' association announces its twenty-second annual meeting for stockholders, to take place next week, Tuesday, April 10, at the packing-house in Puente.

Beginning at 10 o'clock, the morning session will head W. E. Goodspeed, general manager of the walnut control board, in a talk on the activities of this phase of the industry. A barbecue lunch, which has been a feature for a number of years, will be served at noon.

Importance of Cooperation to the Walnut Industry is to be the subject of W. B. Blackburn, president of the California farm bureau, and another speaker will be A. W. Christie, on "Walnut Shell Operations." He is the association's field manager.

As has been the case in past years, the stockholders will be addressed by Carlyle Thorpe, general manager of the California Walnut Growers' association, who will talk on "Sales Operations and Market Conditions." The Puente association will hear the year's report from Secretary W. R. Stanton, which will be followed by the election of board of directors.

With the announcement of the annual meeting a notation is also made that rates on final payments on culls to growers under date of April 2 of this year were as follows: bud culls, .0707 cents per pound; seed culls, .0503 cents; Eureka culls, .08 cents.

State Road Plan Presented Before Valley Chambers

A daring proposal, which has in it much of controversy, was presented to the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the San Gabriel valley last Tuesday night at the regular monthly dinner meeting held in Pomona.

Engineer E. E. East of the Automobile Club of Southern California outlined a plan whereby the state of California might take over all road and highway construction and maintenance within the state, including cities and counties.

The plan was criticized by C. J. S. Williamson of the Los Angeles chamber of commerce, who led a general discussion. Consensus of opinion was that the plan, whatever its merits or otherwise, will be a long time in formation, and its adoption, if ever, will be years in future.

The valley chambers were welcomed by Mayor C. C. Parrin of Pomona, and by W. E. Campbell, president of Pomona chamber, with a response by Roy Teeters, president of the associated body. The dinner and arrangements were made by J. M. Paige, Pomona's executive secretary.

CITY ELECTION MONDAY

With 1631 voters qualified to participate, the city election will be held next Monday, April 9, with two positions on the city council to fill.

The only candidates to file are Louis Hodges, incumbent, and John Koch, who will take the place of Russell W. Davis, whose term has expired, and who has declined to run.

COVINA PILOT TO FLY PLANE OVER YUKON

Mason Menefee Off
for Gold Country
as Rush Starts

With the Yukon country awakening to another gold-rush that may reach dimensions of the days of the sourdoughs of '98, Mason Menefee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Menefee of Grand avenue, started this week for Skagway, Alaska, where he has accepted a position as an aviator with the Clyde Wann Flying company.

Young Menefee is an experienced licensed pilot, and expects to make trips between Alaska and Seattle, carrying passengers, express and mail. His air cargo will undoubtedly be many a miner's "poke" of gold, if the present excitement is an indication of what is to happen in the famous diggings this summer.

Principally the lure of Alaska has been aroused, not so much by new strikes as because of the high price of gold at this time, the highest in the history of the world's use of it. With the United States treasury paying $35 an ounce, it was inevitable that the men experienced in this adventurous line of business would remember the old workings along the rivers of Alaska.

Singing "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here," as in '98, there were 437 passengers who boarded the liner Yukon this week, bound for the land of gold and romance. More than 5000 people gathered to see them off, and many in the crowd were waiting to take the next steamer. On the deck were air-planes for use by the Skagway company, and there were 2400 tons of revenue freight in the hold, the largest load in many years.

Experienced gold hunters declare that the return of the miners to the old regions will inevitably mean a new strike, and that Alaska may this summer be the mecca for thousands. Old-timers say that there has always been plenty of gold in the Yukon, but that of late years the price has been so low and the cost of mining so high it has not paid to engage in the industry except where there is an exceptional mine.

New Manager for Drew Carriage Store

T. P. Logan, for the past fifteen years merchandise manager of the Drew Carriage company stores, on Monday became manager of the Drew store in Covina. The change was made thru the consolidation of the Riverside and San Bernardino stores, which were discontinued about a month ago, the stocks being moved to Covina and Ontario. There will be no change in the personnel of the local store, M. C. Egly to take care of the outside implement, truck and tractor trade, which he was unable to look after during the time he was acting as manager.

M. F. Speer will continue in his former duties, with more time to devote to his electrical equipment, in which he has specialized. Lynn Breakey will have charge of the automotive parts department, which has become an important part of the Drew business.

Mr. Logan comes to Covina with an enviable record in Ontario, where he is just completing a term on the city council. He was also a director of the chamber of commerce in that city, and was active in all civic and community affairs. Covina business circles will welcome him as an active part of its commercial and social life.

Pastors Appreciate Aid in Services

Covina ministers who arranged the Easter sunrise service, held in the athletic field of the high school, were this week pronounced in their thanks to those who aided in making it a success.

The out-of-door addition of the high school's chapel choir and the splendid renditions by the Chordsmen male quartet from La Verne were especially appreciated.

The ministers were of the belief that the location selected, following a disappointment in securing a spot in the hills south of the town, was especially fitting and advantageous to the program. It was intimated that it might be held henceforth in the athletic enclosure.

Mrs. William DeBarge of Monte Vista street spent Saturday in Los Angeles with friends.

Engineers View
Dams in Canyon

Although there have been, at various times, more engineers in the San Gabriel canyon than in any other canyon in the state, owing to the long years of study of flood control projects, the record was raised to an all-time height last week, when 172 members of the American Society of Civil Engineers, Los Angeles chapter, took luncheon at the big diningroom of the contractors on the San Gabriel dam No. 1, at the forks of the river.

The delegation was headed by Merrill Butler, president, and the party was shown over the works now under construction by E. C. Eaton, chief flood control engineer for Los Angeles county.

On the same trip the engineers viewed the completed Pasadena dam, guests of Sam Morris, chief engineer for the city of Pasadena.

FRUIT MARKET OVER-LOADED BY FLORIDA

Prices Held Down by Shipment Barrage;
Navels Popular

Florida's intensive citrus barrage, laid down on all the principal eastern markets, is holding the price down, and the shipments from that state are being rushed on account of the discovery of granulation, it was reported this week by officials of the marketing organizations.

Florida has 8000 cars to go, as against 12,670 of last year at this time. In spite of the rush into the markets, the trade reports declare that the quality of navels in the market are excellent at present, especially from the standpoint of juice and eating desirability. The trade is featuring half-case lots, a comparatively new departure, and this has hit a popular chord with small retailers.

Navels in California are holding up well, with little dropping, which is declared to be fortunate as relating to the crowded market. Prices have not been satisfactory, and will not be until the heavy load is distributed from Florida.

For two mornings during this week orchard pots were lighted in the West Covina area to prevent injury to pollination. The weather forecasts warned of low temperatures at dawn, and predicted as low as twenty-nine, but a wind brought the temperature up to forty. No lighting to save orange blossoms was reported.

A new departure in the agricultural business in southern California is announced this week, to the effect that Floyd D. Young, meteorologist for the federal government, will prepare bulletins through the summer, and that these will be broadcast by radio at noon. These bulletins will have to do with predicting serious heat-waves, and other variations, more particularly as a guide to sprayers.

Principal Ross Past Crisis in Pneumonia

After a critical period as the result of an attack of pneumonia, V. R. Ross, vice-principal of the Covina high school, was reported yesterday afternoon as past the crisis and on the road to recovery.

Mr. Ross was taken ill following a trip to Fresno, and for several days over the weekend his condition was alarming to his family and friends. It will be several weeks before he will be able to resume his duties, it was stated yesterday.

Howard Whitney Dies at Altadena Home

Howard Whitney, capitalist, and heavy owner of citrus property in the Covina valley, died at his home in Altadena last Thursday, and his funeral last Saturday was attended by a number of prominent citrus growers of this valley.

Mr. Whitney was president of the Houser-Whitney Citrus Orchards company, of which I. D. Houser and five other growers and business men of the valley were members. This company owned the seventy acres of citrus on lower La Brea street, that was known as the E. D. Barry ranch, and twenty acres at the corner of Azusa avenue and Cypress,

DR. GRIFFITH HEADS DRIVE FOR CHILDREN

David and Margaret
Home Aid Urged
by Committee

Launching a valley-wide organization for the purpose of raising funds for the David and Margaret home, an institution for children at La Verne, an advisory committee held a meeting Monday afternoon in the court room of Judge Thomas B. Reed.

Headed by Dr. William A. Griffith, formerly the chairman of the Los Angeles county grand jury, the members who will serve with him are: Robert W. Burns, editor of the Covina Citizen; Ben F. Thorpe, president of the chamber of commerce; J. L. Matthews, editor of the Covina Argus; Edwin Jobe, Covina Lions club; Roy C. Hanna, resident manager of the Edison company; Sam Stead, president of the Covina Rotary club; Henry Damerel of the Damerel-Alison Packing company; Or. C. D. Samuels, president of the Covina Men's club; secretary, Mrs. W. C. Merwin, who is conference secretary for the David and Margaret home.

Joining these members of the advisory board will be a committee of one hundred men and women of the valley whose names were selected this week, and a house-to-house canvass will be made in city and valley to obtain articles of furniture, china, beds and bedding and other articles that are suitable to be sold at an auction on the evening of Saturday, April 28, at the Woman's clubhouse, when the noted auctioneer, W. Dwight Hammond of Los Angeles, will sell each article to the highest bidder.

Cash raised will be used to make possible the enrollment of more children at the home. Women with babies that they cannot care for are being turned away from the doors at present because the home has not sufficient funds to support them, although there are thirty empty beds.

In connection with this campaign there will be a "Covina day" at the home on the Sunday afternoon preceding the auction sale. Arrangements are being made for this pilgrimage by Mrs. J. L. Matthews, for years a director and sponsor of the institution. Workers in the valley will be notified of their territories during the coming week in order to thoroughly cover the entire area for suitable articles to auction, Dr. Griffith said.

City Backs Plan for Night Baseball

Good news for baseball fans came this week when the city council on Monday night appointed LeGrande Wilson as a committee of one to make arrangements for night ball to be held in the city park during the summer months.

Several plans are being considered by those who are cooperating with Mr. Wilson in an effort to bring back night ball to the popular point it reached two years ago, when the stands were filled at every game and enthusiasm for the sport made it the general topic of conversation in Covina. One plan is to join a league made up from teams in neighboring cities, thus assuring at least one game in Covina each week. Mr. Wilson is now in communication with the heads of this league and will know within a few days whether there will be an opening for Covina, and also the requirements for membership.

A local league is also being discussed, with several organizations and business firms ready to equip teams.

In general, inflation tends to wrench away the dead hand of the vested interests, and to give the underlying community, and particularly active business men, a fresh start.

—STUART CHASE, Economist

Business Is Better—

Business has improved decidedly in the east and middle west. Uncle Sam, a sick man for four years, shows signs of returning vitality in spite of the fact that his bedside has been so crowded with specialists and recovery experts he could scarcely find air to breathe.

Automobile companies are running three shifts and raising wages; cotton and woolen mills on the Atlantic seaboard are at capacity after paralysis for more than ten years; shoe factories are putting out rush orders; manufacturers of electrical appliances are advertising for help. For the first time since 1926, the activity of industry is not spotted in certain zones but is rapidly becoming widespread.

We should remember that industry has been sick for a longer period than the breakdown of stock markets in 1929. The building trades, for example, were dormant on the Pacific coast long before the stock crash.

People generally will not get excited at a finger pointing at another false dawn. Statements prepared merely for the purpose of keeping up the courage of the country are of no avail. The minds of the people are still in the grip of cynicism, and prosperity must introduce itself unmistakably, and not continue to emit faint squeals from around some corner. But business is undeniably getting better.

While good business never reaches the Pacific coast until the east and middle west are booming, there are plenty of signs in southern California that trade is revived. Business is still in a dangerous spot, with thousands unemployed, or existing on mouthfuls of labor doled out by federal and state agencies. But, gradually, the country seems to be definitely entering into the period of convalescence.

Pensions for war veterans have always increased in this country. They have never been permanently reduced, always raised. Three presidents in succession have attempted to curtail them. Congress over-rides each attempt. What's the reason? Well, viewing it without prejudice, the people are always on the side of the men who bore the brunt of war. Back of it all is a feeling that if we don't want to pay for our wars, the logical thing to do is not to go to war.

No News Today—

One of the commonest expressions for the past several years has been: "There's nothing much in the newspapers today."

And the reason for this attitude on the part of the average reader is that he is looking for something that would be a solution, or the hint of a solution, of his own problems. Inasmuch as a solution of nearly all problems at present would be something in connection with economics, the reader is looking for news that points to an upturn in business, and more particularly, in his line of business. That's a reasonable and understandable desire.

Yet, the news of the country and the world is revolutionary. It is epic, as fraught with portent as was the news of the progress of the French revolution; or the advance of the Americans in the Argonne forest. The world and this country are in the throes of a colossal make-over that will furnish chapters in history one hundred years from this date.

The headlines tell of an Insull, involuntarily returning to the country he betrayed; of faithless financiers entering prison one by one and two by two; of public officials on trial; of the battle of the open and closed shop in its final stages; of the struggle to bring malefactors of great wealth within the law; of the collapse of the cities and the return to the farms; of the imminent loss of the private banking privilege; of the six-hour day to combat the mechanistic age—and of the return to a cynical, rather than moral, belief in honesty as the best policy.

Great history is in the making. But like the man who could not see the forest because there were so many trees, we do not grasp the significance of events that are happening all around us. This is the greatest news-making era in the world's history. As the Irishman says—anything may happen, and probably will.

Denver experiences a howling snowstorm this week, with drifts ten feet deep. The middle west and east is by no means completely dug out of snowdrifts and ice-jams as yet, and here it is April, the month of daffodils, with daisies and buttercups supposed to be just around the corner. Under the circumstances, we hate to mention our baby spring in the southland, with our only regret being that somehow, we have neglected to mix more money with the climate.

Calling Names in Congress—

Conservative members of both parties are pretending to be scandalized by what they term to be evidence of Socialistic and Communistic leanings in the administration's official family.

Mr. Hearst, the camouflaged liberal, is alarmed, and publishes pontifical editorials of warning. The brain-trusters are under the microscope. Their written and spoken utterances are being scrutinized, and certain members of congress believe they detect a reddish tinge in the Roosevelt policies.

From a distance it furnishes mild amusement, inasmuch as the trend has been fully apparent from the first; and attaching the washed-out, frayed labels of Communism or Socialism to the government's policies is belated, as is also any accusation of Fascism or other forms of dictatorship. The president met these criticisms sanely enough in a recent speech when he intimated that attempts to compare this country's trend with that of the forms of government in other countries is beside the point, and can lead nowhere. Calling names, while human, is nevertheless shortsighted. Such tactics merely reveal our stupid penchant for the placing of labels on things; substituting slogans for sensible analysis.

With the collapse of our capitalistic system in 1929 in this country, and earlier than that date in other countries, modified dictatorship was not only necessary, but was demanded by the people. It was so in Italy; it became a necessity when Roosevelt was elected. In Italy they called it Fascism; in the United States it was Roosevelt, a dictator by consent of a vast majority of the people, commoners and capitalists alike.

Democracy had broken down: It had been nothing but a name for a quarter of a century in this country. The condition of the times; the exigencies of the period—demanded something that under analysis proved to be a one-man government. Mussolini did not seize the government—the people demanded that he assume control. The American people took the same attitude with Roosevelt. Trying to define the situation by putting names to it—that of Socialism or Communism—is a human trait, but does not get to the root of it.

We should remember that democracy is founded on a delegated power. The wider that power of delegation the more democracy, but it is forgotten that democracy also has the authority to restrict the powers of delegation in a crisis. One has only to remember the delegated powers in the ordinary family to get the proper viewpoint. The head of the family, if it is a good and properly functioning unit, delegates most of the powers to members of that family. When a crisis comes the powers are temporarily withdrawn until normal conditions can be established. Nations are merely groups of families.

These cries of alarm concerning the utterances of brain-trusters—that they are working to undermine the constitution—that they are sowing seeds of Socialism and Communism in the schools—is a renewed revelation that standpaters in all parties never properly analyze drifts and trends, and that they do not understand the constitution. In the last six months the United States supreme court has several times shown that the constitution is to be utilized always in the best interests of the people, and not to be allowed to become an obstruction in itself.

The constitution is a generalized set of rules, to be used as a guide according to the changing needs of government, not a sacred, fixed, immovable, implacable barrier that may, and often does block progress if arbitrarily interpreted. That's what the supreme court is for—to make the constitution fit the needs of a changing, fluid, advancing condition of government. What a law student learns about the constitution in school might not be the proper interpretation when he is sixty years old.

Mussolini has said that Fascism is not exportable. It belongs only in Italy. There are a few mistaken idealists in Russia and throughout the world who believe that Communism is a cure for the ills of all the world. We have a form of dictatorship in the United States at the present time, but not necessarily Fascism. We have Communistic idealisms in process of experimentation in our government, but not necessarily an adoption of the Russian form of government.

The facts are that we are in a new world. The old order has passed. Our government in the future will contain some of the best ideas of all governments, for that is the manner in which our government has always progressed. There is actually no such thing as a pure American government, or Italian government or Russian government. All governments, if they go forward, are made up of parts of others, for the simple reason that they are formulated out of facts and demonstrable truths, not on names, such as Socialism, or Communism, or Fascism, or Americanism.

But trends are inevitable, and have nothing to do with names, either of party movements or individuals. The American government of the future will have something of Fascism in it; something of Communism in it; something of the old Anglo-Saxon government in it; more of social justice, less of the rule of the financially powerful; and therefore, more of the principles of the Christian religion, and other philosophies based on human needs. We must not make changes for the sake of change, nor cling to the old out of a mistaken regard for the complete and final wisdom of the forefathers.

We have a quotation from the classics: "As immutable as the laws of the Medes and the Persians." The ruling classes attempted to set up a constitution and a set of laws that could not be changed under any circumstances. And the people finally overturned that government and took all the lawbooks out into the street and burned them.

When man takes on the mask of immutability he is headed toward revolution.

THE OTHER FELLOW'S JOB!

We wish that we were what we're not.
And had some other fellow's lot,
And toss at night upon our cot
And worry 'bout the rent!

If we were only Banker Brown,
Or Merchant Jones, with his renown,
Or Smith, the mayor of our hometown,
We'd snore with deep content!

We envy Miggs, the millionaire,
Who lives in stately palace there.
On "Easy Street" and knows no care,
While we dwell in a cot!

We sigh for costly limousines;
To eat rare foods instead of beans;
To wear dress-suits instead of jeans,
And mourn our lowly lot!

But Banker Brown, with shoulders bent,
Sits slumped in dreary discontent,
And Miggs, the rich, who pays no rent,
And has the coin in "gobs,"

And Smith, the mayor, and Merchant Jones,
Look on their lots with mournful moans,
And shake their heads with gloomy groans—
And crave each other's jobs!
—James Edward Hungerford.

George Ross, who shows how smart he is by telling us that he always reads WarrBlings, gave us the above to head our column this week. Of course, it isn't as good as some of our own, but it is pretty good, at that.

Monday morning we were walking up Citrus avenue when we saw Roy Hanna and Hal Cook standing on the corner in earnest conversation, each with his hands in his pockets. Feeling sort of smart, Alecky, we said to them, "The way you fellows keep your hands in your pockets you must be afraid of each other." Which brought this snappy come-back from Mr. Hanna, "Nope, it isn't that, we just saw you coming up the street."

Since Al Smith has left the editorship of the Outlook, the outlook for the Outlook does not seem to look so bright.

Hovey Cook has given up his champion Millionaires ball team and is organizing a girls' ball team. Well, they say it is only a step from millionaires to girls. But Hovey didn't have nerve enough to tackle the job alone, so he dragged in poor Lynn Breakey as assistant manager. What a pair to manage a bunch of women!

We know how some of these radio comedians feel when they laugh so heartily at their own jokes. It would be just too bad if nobody laughed at them.

Easter Sunday we were feeling sort of out of things. All we had in the way of Easter togs was a new necktie (and we wouldn't have had that if we hadn't had a birthday the week before), so when we went down town we slipped around the back streets to catch the car to Los Angeles. When we reached the corner of Citrus and Badillo we met a sight that made us feel better. It was Phillip Maurer wearing a straw hat that was at least four years old, but on his face was an Easter smile that couldn't help but make a fellow feel better. So we went to town flaunting our new tie to the breeze and feeling like a million dollars.

Tuesday there were three cars parked on Citrus avenue between Badillo and College streets. They were there all day, while their owners were in Los Angeles shopping. And while these cars were there people who wanted to trade in Covina stores were driving around trying to find a parking space. Ho-hum!

Herbert Daffern hands us the following news clipping from an eastern paper and asks us what we think of it. Here it is:

"Lauville, N. Y.—Walter Rusaw of this place has traded his wife to his brother, Roy, for a truck. All three involved in the deal agreed to the trade."

Well, there are points on both sides. A wife can (maybe) cook, but she can't haul gravel. Then, too, you have to buy gas and oil for a truck, but you have to buy lipstick, powder and rouge for a wife, and besides, you can stop a truck when you want to. Still, not having seen the truck or the wife, we are unable to pass judgment on the trade, so Herb will have to look elsewhere for information.

They say the only difference between die and diet is the t, and we never did like tea. Doggone this thing they call indigestion! Alba Hilsch tells us we ought to be glad it isn't acute indigestion. We can't see a cute thing about it, but we have an idea that Carl Shirley was trying to be cute when he advised eating yeast. We know enough about cooking to know that yeast is used to make things puff up, and our stomach is too puffed up now.

It must be time to quit, our tummy is gnawing again. No wonder.

Don Porter Buys Meat Shop in "Market Spot"

Don Porter, who is well remembered by many residents of Covina, has purchased the meat department of the Covina Market Spot, which was sold by Mrs. J. L. Alexander on account of the sudden illness of her husband two weeks after he opened the market. The new owner has been manager of the meat department of the three Torley markets in Pomona and Ontario for the past ten years and is thoroughly familiar with every branch of the business.

Ten years ago Mr. Porter was associated with his father-in-law, George B. Larson, in what was called the "Covina Valley Market," located in the building now occupied by the Longworth cafe. Many of his old-time friends have learned of his return to Covina and have called to wish him well in his new venture. Mr. and Mrs. Porter were married in Covina.

M. C. Junejinger, operator of the grocery department of the new market, has also taken over the fruit and vegetable department and the establishment will again be in full swing today, with many special offerings in all departments, as will be seen by reference to their ad in this issue of the Argus.

Aphis Infestation Inflicting Damage

Infestations of plant lice of all colors and descriptions are abnormally heavy this spring due to weather conditions which have been favorable for their propagation, according to H. H. Wilcomb, deputy agricultural commissioner of Los Angeles county, who has found that this condition is general in most parts of the county on both ornamental, field and orchard crops.

"Citrus orchards in blossom at the present time are becoming heavily infested," Mr. Wilcomb said, "and unless growers control the aphids immediately, severe damage to this season's set of fruit may result." The aphids do their injury by curling and distorting the foliage and dropping the bloom. If a treatment is applied at this time, it should carry the grove thru the blooming period, and therefore even though a reinfestation occurs, it will not affect the set of this year's crop. Also, a little later on, natural enemies will reduce the infestations to where they will do no material damage, but it is too early in the season for them to appear in sufficient numbers to do much good at this time.

Nicotine sulphate spray at the rate of three-quarters of a pint to one hundred gallons of solution, with an adequate spreader, and number ten nicotine sulphate dust are being used. Although the dust is not generally quite as thorough in control as a spray, it is satisfactory and costs considerably less.

Valencia Picking Starts in Heights

The North Whittier Heights Citrus association this week began valencia picking and the first shipment of next week for continental Europe. A second export shipment of ten carloads will be made a week later. Domestic shipments will not begin until about May 15, according to Manager C. P. Blatz.

At the present time eighty carloads of navels are in storage in the pre-cooling plant preparatory to summer shipment. Navel picking will be cleaned up next week.

Lawrence Cobb to Run for Senate

Lawrence Cobb, assemblyman from the fifty-eighth district, this week announced that he will be a candidate in the Republican primaries, August 28, for state senator from the thirty-eighth district, comprising Los Angeles county, to succeed J. W. McKinley, who will not be a candidate.

"I believe my record in the assembly entitles me to be promoted to this important position," said Cobb. "As the position pays $1200 per year, an expensive campaign cannot be justified, and I shall present my candidacy to the people in a modest manner."

FOR CONGRESS

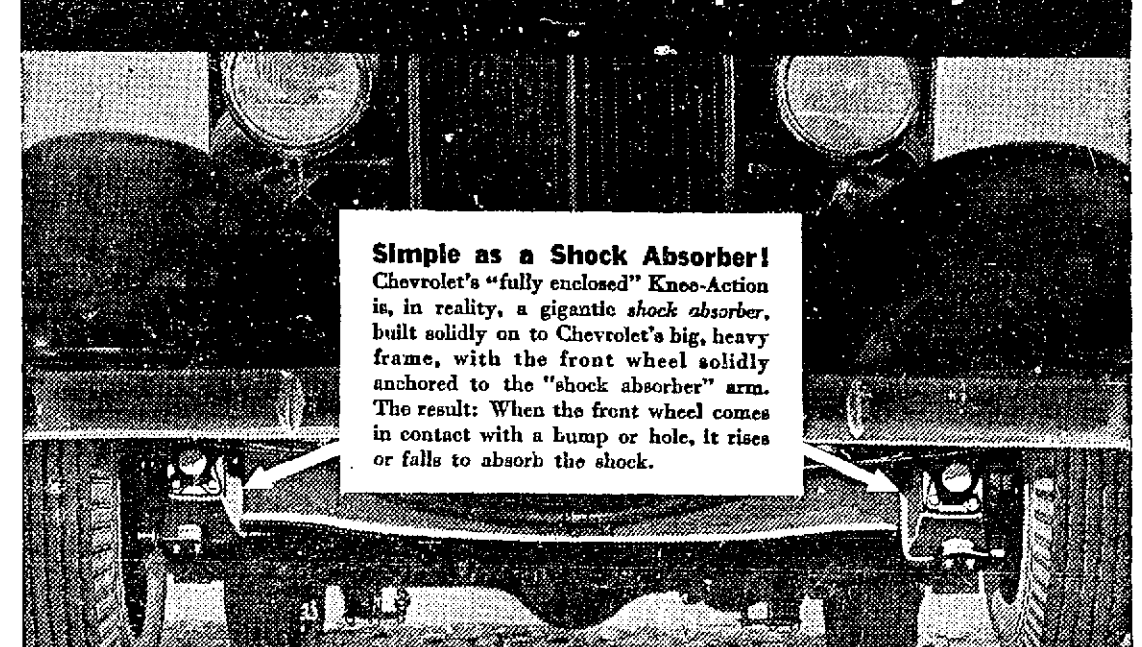

"RELIEF OF THE AGED"

When I am elected to the Congress I will sponsor a bill to grant a pension of $60.00 per month to every man or woman, who is a citizen and residing in the United States, after the time he attains the age of 60 years, provided that he is not receiving any annuity, pension or other contribution from the government, and is unable to procure gainful employment.

The cold-blooded economists would say that such men should become objects of charity, but most people feel that cold-blooded economists should be tempered with human justice . . . after all it is human beings who make up a nation and its economics . . . and in this day of labor-saving machinery and science a man who is not wanted by industry after reaching the age of 60 years, and who has contributed to the support of the government, is entitled to self-respect and a reasonable independence in his old age.

The only low-priced car with fully-enclosed Knee-Action Wheels and what a difference that makes in performance and dependability

Simple as a Shock Absorber! Chevrolet's "fully enclosed" Knee-Action is, in reality, a gigantic shock absorber, built solidly on to Chevrolet's big, heavy frame, with the front wheel solidly anchored to the "shock absorber" arm. The result: When the front wheel comes in contact with a bump or hole, it rises or falls to absorb the shock.

A smooth, restful, gliding ride . . . a bounceless back seat . . . a new feeling of safety and relaxation in high-speed or rough-road travel. All these pleasures are yours with Knee-Action wheels. And if your car has enclosed Knee-Action, like Chevrolet's, you not only get this gliding ride at its best, you also get two other extra advantages. One of these is shock-proof steering. And the other is dependable operation. The patent rights on this special kind of Knee-Action are held exclusively by General Motors. That's why no other low-priced car has it. Also, no other has a Fisher body, cable-controlled brakes, or a Blue-Flame engine of unsurpassed economy. LONG ETHER AVENUE

with JOHNNY WHITEHEAD

Howdy there. How are ya? Just chatted over a beer with Clark Dennis, KEE's Green Prince, and enjoyed it—the beer, too. Likeable chap this Dennis, and ambitious as they come these days. Ho's shooting high... and off to a swell start with the world before him... California's best young stylist... Sings into the microphone with the feeling of Morton Downey and the phrasing of Crosby. Came to Los Angeles some three months ago from Flint, Michigan, after singing in Chicago with Earl Hines' hotcha Harlem jazz purveyors at the smart Grand Terrace cafe... Only twenty is Clark... Good-looking and light-haired... a warm personality and a yen for smart clothes... Is cub-rasy about swimming and the California sun... In the charming person of Lois Still, vocal serenader with Paul Kain's band, Clark has all the inspiration he needs for a long and successful career on the air-waves.

The ivory-tickling composer, Ted Fiorito, really deserves a box of Winchell's orchids for his solos and swell all-round improvement with that ocean-to-ocean broadcast... Ted has written a new song... it's called Lou Anna... and Muzzy Marcellino, the pleasing-voiced heart-breaker, really rings the bell with The Debutantes... Ray Hendricks continued to draw his weekly check by singing his one note—it's a good note, too... The solo trumpet in the Fiorito band would be hard to beat.

Ray Paige tells me he dreamed from early childhood of someday being the pilot of an airship... Funny thing, he did become a pilot, at that, although he employs a different kind of stick than is usually associated with sky-riders... He has certainly sky-rocketed his way to fame on our coast and it won't be long before Columbia will be sending out for him... Favorite fan is his mother-in-law... Never wears a hat and always on the run... He is a universal favorite for such popular singers as Bing Crosby, Arthur Farnett and Clark Dennis... They all have a sense of security with Ray waving the baton... Plays a mean game of tennis when he gets a few hours off from the studio... Happily married to a charming soprano who, the radio editors say, can really cook!

Radio fans have been clamoring for tickets at such a rate that the producers of the Follies have decided to add more numbers for the charming and engaging-voiced Jane Froman, whom you have been hearing on those Sunday night Seven-Star Troubadours... Saturday, they report from across the sea, is packing the Brits in like sardines at one of London's bigger theaters... Two days before his hi-di-hi-ness arrived from the states the tickets for four nights were all reserved... Seems to me that I remember that those Londoners went for another colored maestro by the name of Duke Ellington, too... Wonder who his honor the Prince of Wales favors?

Ran across those three young fellows yesterday who call themselves the Hi-Hatters, in the studios of KHL... Jimmy Carson, blond soloist of the trio, had his young brother Billy up for audition... And the kid's good, too... Had his own program in the Hollywood Bowl a couple of summers ago and is Tito Schipa's protégé... The Hi-Hatters are going good these days on Doc Hall's Laff Clinic at KFWB, and Ben Bernie placed them second in his audition poll... Bernie, by the way, is slated for quite an important role in the Paramount feature now under way and called "The Great Magoo."

This witty guy, Arthur Godfrey, who "emcees" on the Metropolitan parade over CBS and KHL at noon several days a week, sang a chorus of "Snuggled On Your Shoulder" with Betty Barthel the other day... And he did better than some of our crooners... Carmen Lombardo is the composer of that "Snuggled" number—and it was some hit last summer, wasn't it?... Bumped into Lombardo's guitarist at the Ambassador the other evening and he says the director on "Many Happy Returns," the flicker the Royal Canadians are making with Burns and Allen, is keen to work with... Well, enough of all this for today... Be seeing ya!

Citrus Pruning to Be Demonstrated

For the second week of April the agricultural extension service, co-operating with the citrus growers' department of the farm bureau, has planned a number of demonstration pruning meetings for citrus growers, as announced by W. H. Williams, assistant farm advisor in Los Angeles county for the University of California.

At these meetings emphasis will be placed upon more regular attention in regard to pruning, but less time per tree than has been the custom. A little cutting in the right places will save time and money.

The schedule for demonstrations in this district follows:

Monday, April 9—2 p. m.: Glendora, W. W. Wilson ranch, one-fourth mile south of Pothill on Elwood.

Tuesday, April 10—9:30 a. m.: Duarte, Densmore ranch, Central avenue, one-fourth mile east of Buena Vista.

Thursday, April 12—2 p. m.: Irwindale, F. G. Paddock's ranch, Vincent avenue just north of the packinghouse.

Spring Irrigation of Orange Groves

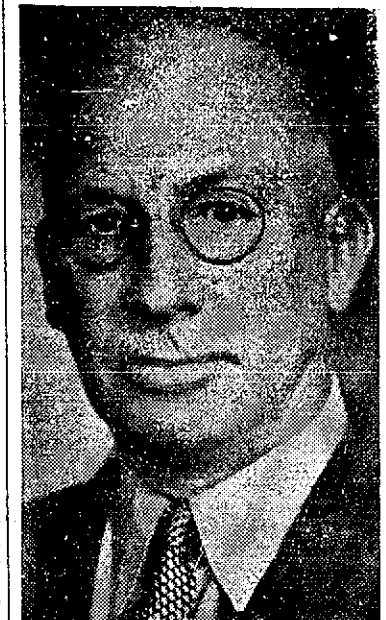

The old saying that it does not pay to gamble applies to the irrigation of citrus fruit trees. According to A. G. Salter, assistant farm advisor in Los Angeles county, the citrus grower should not gamble on a spring irrigation.

Salter points out that the trouble in waiting for spring rains is that they may not come, and if they do, they are usually too light to take the place of an irrigation.

At this time in many citrus orchards the soil has dried out to a depth of a foot to two feet. If this is the case, a light irrigation would be advisable. "Irrigate in alternate middles as soon as irrigation is necessary," advises Salter.

In any case, don't wait for a rain, but examine the soil and irrigate as soon as such an examination shows the need for water. It is poor economy to save water at this time and lose fruit thru dropping, later on. Too severe drying out at this time of the year has caused some dropping of the small fruit when water has been later applied.

Blue Goose Man to Survey East

H. S. Hazeltine, president of the California division of the American Fruit Growers, Inc., is making an extended trip thruout the east for the purpose of investigating eastern markets. He will attend a special conference of the company's officials in Pittsburgh. Mr. Hazeltine says: "American Fruit Growers' operations, because they are so large and reach into so many producing sections, require a coordinated policy with respect to various marketing agreements of the agricultural adjustment act. It is to arrive at this policy of operations that the executives of the American Fruit Growers are convening in Pittsburgh."

Mr. Hazeltine will also visit Washington, D. C., to confer directly with officials of the A.A.A. When questioned as to Blue Goose fruit and vegetable shipments out of California this season, he said, "Carload shipments of asparagus have already reached their peak about a month ahead of normal. Cherries will start moving from Vacaville as early as April 10, and there are prospects of the earliest shipping season on record for deciduous tree fruits from central and northern California."

Jack Welsh, export manager for American Fruit Growers, is now in Europe for a three-months' tour of eastern markets. While abroad he will develop additional facilities for the handling of Blue Goose fruits there.

Dalton CCC Camp to Be Abandoned

According to word received here this week, it has been definitely decided to close the Dalton canyon CCC camp for the summer months. It is not known where Dalton enrollees will be transferred.

From plans already authorized in Washington, the CCC camps in the Fort MacArthur district, of which the Dalton camp is a part, will be reduced to one-third their present number. The largest total number of camps allowed in the district will be ten, it is understood, although there is a probability that it may be reduced to nine.

It has been definitely decided that the Angeles national forest will have only three camps—Williams, Rincon and Angeles Crest.

The building will be constructed providing space for all merchandise, etc., on one floor, and will be equipped with the latest facilities, including the Lamson merchandise conveyor system.

THREE SHIFTS A DAY FOR BUICK COMPANY

Buick Motor company enters April with employment and payrolls at the four-year peak maintained during the past two months, Harlow H. Curdick, president, announced.

A total of 14,315 are at work in the Buick factories, approximately the same number that were employed during February, while the payroll for March totaled approximately $1,725,000.

The company ended March with a total production of 6943 cars, with 8746 scheduled for April, an increase of 26 per cent. Retail sales during March have approximately doubled those of the corresponding month of last year, Mr. Curdick said.

With factory employment at peak, the plants of the company are operating on multiple shifts, three-shifts daily being required in several manufacturing divisions.

Covina Man's Gift Viewed at College

Representatives of southland high school senior classes were guests of Pomona college, associated men's students, on Saturday, March 31. The visitors were entertained with a luncheon in Frary Refectory at noon, following a tour of the campus under the leadership of the "Ghosts," college senior men's honorary society.

Following luncheon the young men were thrilled with an exhibition of the Foucault pendulum in Bridges auditorium. This rare instrument, the gift of Arthur O. Clark of Covina, demonstrates the rotation of the earth. The boys were guests at the track meet between Santa Barbara, Whitier, La Verne and Pomona during the afternoon.

Assessor Opposes Ad Valorem Tax

Declaring that Los Angeles county and city stand to lose more than $12,000,000, or 36.6 per cent of the total tax, County Assessor Ed W. Hopkins this week condemned the proposed levying of a state ad valorem tax on the grounds that it is unfair and will result in the virtual confiscation of millions of dollars worth of property.

Hopkins' attack on the suggested plan for an ad valorem tax was delivered in response to a statement by State Director of Finance Rollin A. Vandegrift, in which he was quoted in the press as saying that a special tax will be needed this year to cover an estimated deficit of $31,574,000 that is expected to be shown in the state's general fund by June 30, 1935.

"Imposition of an additional ad valorem tax during these critical times would constitute one of the most vicious methods conceivable of wringing money from the taxpayers' pockets," declared Hopkins.

Pontiacs Demanded in Middle West

The second solid trainload of new Pontiac automobiles to be shipped within two weeks to Noel V. Wood, Inc., Kansas City, Mo., distributor, left the factory this week, according to A. W. L. Gilpin, general sales manager of the company.

"Such a great improvement in business in the Kansas City territory has resulted from federal bounties paid on hogs and wheat acreage in the west, as well as from cotton and tobacco subsidies of the south-west," said Mr. Gilpin, "that it has made itself felt in almost every line of business, not only in the rural communities themselves but also in the large distributing centers which serve these large areas."

Lingerie Shower for Bride-to-Be

Spitesses revealed a shower of dainty lingerie which was presented to Miss Bernice Smith Tuesday evening at a party given in her honor by Mrs. Howard Gillenwater (Cleo Powers) at her home on East College street. After unpacking the suitcases and examining the contents, the guests spent the remainder of the evening playing "bunko," prizes for which were won by Miss Sue Evans and Miss Jessie Evans. The color scheme of orchid, green and yellow was carried out thru the decorations, favors and refreshment. The guests were Miss Smith and her sister, Miss Harriet Smith, Misses Jessie and Sue Evans, Gale Buzard, Jessie Tallman, Nadine Stomabugh, and Bernice Cochran, Mrs. Agnes Jordan of Glendale, Mrs. George Wolf of Alhambra, Mrs. Thelma Powell, and Mrs. Virginia Easley. Miss Smith's marriage to Paul Garman of Baldwin Park will take place later in the month.

Garnett-McCoy

Covina Office Secretary in Secret Wedding to Los Angeles Man

For almost a year Madge McCoy has kept the secret of her marriage to David Garnett, which occurred June 16. The ceremony was performed at the Methodist church in Ontario by the Rev. Kimball, and she has continued in the position as secretary to William E. Thorne, spending the weekends with her husband in Los Angeles. During the week Miss McCoy resided with her mother, Mrs. Laura Haynes, at 361 West San Bernardino road. She wore as her bridal attire a suit of navy blue, with accessories to match, and a corsage of gardenias.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Garnett of Los Angeles and is employed with the Shell Oil company. Mr. and Mrs. Garnett will take up their residence at 2512 Second avenue in Los Angeles on Saturday, when Miss McCoy will leave her position for that of housewife. Her position will be filled by Miss Ruth Groover.

Shower in Honor of Coming Bride

In compliment to Pearl Manley, whose marriage to Howard McGannon of Pomona will take place April 28, a miscellaneous shower was given Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Roy Winder, the assisting hostesses being Mrs. Anna Winder, Mrs. Will Lavender, and Mrs. H. B. Burk. The guests assembled in the morning prepared to tie a comforter for the honor guest and to hem tea towels and make other kitchen necessities. A dainty luncheon was served at noon and the gift's opened and examined. Aside from the hostesses and honor guest there were present Mrs. Emma Leibman and Mrs. Earl Welton of Downey, Mrs. McGannon of Pomona, Mrs. Ernest Burdick, also of Pomona, and Mrs. Henry Armet of Covina.

Scout Honor Court to Hear Traveler

John Palmer, an exceptional youth in Boy Scout experience, will be the speaker before the Covina court of honor a week from tonight, Friday, April 13, to be held in the Masonic temple. Young Palmer is from Pomona, and was one of the lads who went to Hungary last year in what is known as the international jamboree. The awards for the month will be dispensed, and there will be a general program, Ronald Taylor, president of the council, said yesterday.

Federation Meets in Social Session

A meeting of Women's Relief Corps federation, number 2, with an attendance from 12 eight valley units, was held Monday in San Bernardino. Representatives from Covina there were Mrs. Julia Mitchell, Mrs. Jean Miller, Mrs. Eva Smith, and Mrs. Emma Sprague.

Covina Singer in Sunrise Service

Miss Francis White, daughter of Mrs. Phoebe Ara White of Lark Ellen boulevard, was one of a quartet that furnished the Easter music at the sunrise services held Sunday morning at Forest Lawn Memorial park. Miss White also opened Tuesday as the prima donna in the prologue showing before the picture, "The House of Rothschild," featuring George Arliss at the Chinese theater in Hollywood.

Hepner Kills Bobcat in Covina Hills

A full-grown bobcat, weighing about twelve pounds, was killed last week by Henry Hepner of 450 West Puente street, as the result of a hunting snarl he took thru the hills south of Covina. The animal is quite rare these days, Hepner said, although they were quite plentiful in earlier days, and were a menace to ranch chickens. The animal was crossing a barley field when seen by Hepner, and was brought down with a shot from a twenty-two rifle.

TODAY and TOMORROW

FRANK PARKER STOCKBRIDGE

The year 1935 ought to be a good year for red clover in New England. The winter has been the most severe in years. Comparatively few of the little animals of the fields and woods survive a winter when the crust of the snow is frozen hard. There will be fewer field-mice to rob the humble-beds and nests in the spring. More humble-bees will come to maturity and seek honey from the red clover blossoms. The clover crop will thus be thoroughly pollinated, and the red clover seeds will be fertile. That will make for a good red clover crop in 1935.

To me this example of the cycle of life, first pointed out by Charles Darwin, has always seemed one of the most interesting of all natural phenomena. I think that many well-meaning efforts to disturb nature's ordinary course are calculated to do more harm than good to a world that has adjusted itself to the normal cycle.

TEETH now and then

Tooth decay has little to do with tooth cleanliness or the lack of it, according to the British Medical Research Council, which has been digging deep into the subject. What makes children's teeth decay is not enough sunshine, too high a percentage of cereal foods, not enough meat, eggs, milk, cheese, fats and fresh vegetables in the diet, these medical men say.

The whitest and soundest teeth are found among savage and half-civilized peoples who live largely out of doors and eat whatever they can find that is edible. In my boyhood toothbrushes were just beginning to come into general use and not more than one or two dentifrices were advertised. Most folks never brushed their teeth at all, yet the human race had survived for a good many thousands, perhaps millions, of years.

Clean, white teeth are desirable, but nothing to worry about if one doesn't have them.

MONSTERS . . . men have seen

The amount of evidence that some strange sea-monster lives in a Scottish loch, and the many reports of a sea-serpent seen in Vancouver Sound, have encouraged many folk to tell of strange things they have seen at sea, about which they had kept quiet for fear of being ridiculed. Officers of the Mauretania saw a sea-serpent on a recent Caribbean cruise, and drew a picture of it in the ship's log. Now the Rev. J. E. Rockliff, who is a sort of travelling missionary to seamen and voyagers some 50,000 miles every year, tells of seeing a yellow serpent about 60 feet long in mid-Pacific two years ago.

It seems to me that we are on the verge of demonstrating once more that there is more to ancient beliefs than a skeptical modern age has been willing to believe.

POEM . . O'Hara masterpiece

Theodore O'Hara wrote one of the world's greatest poems more than 75 years ago. It is "The Bivouac of the Dead," and when Arlington national cemetery was established, after the Civil war, stanzas from this great poem were inscribed on stone tablets and set up in different parts of the field.

The Fine Arts commission decided that the ancient stones, before which millions of Americans have paused to read O'Hara's thrilling lines, were not artistic, and ordered them moved. Such a protest was made, however, that it has been decided to inscribe the whole poem on the walls of the amphitheater.

On Fame's eternal camping ground Their silent tents are spread, And Glory guards, with solemn round, The Bivouac of the Dead.

I know of few finer lines in English poetry than those and the rest of O'Hara's verses.

POKER . . and personal rights

The great American card game, so far as men are concerned, is not contract bridge, but poker. In a good many states there are laws against playing poker, also against playing "for keeps" and anything else that can be construed as gambling. These laws are seldom invoked except when somebody in authority wants to make trouble for somebody else.

Representative Parker of Georgia had a candidate for postmaster of his home town. His political opponents brought before the senate evidence that the congressman's choice had once been arrested in a raid on a poker game, indicted and fined. Mr. Parker cheerfully admitted that was true. He had sat in the same poker game himself and had also been arrested and fined. If it didn't debar him from later going to congress, it ought not to debar his man from the postmastership. The senate confirmed the appointment with glee.

Few take seriously any sort of laws that restrict the right of the individual to do what he likes, so long as he doesn't infringe on the rights of others.

SILVER MEDAL CONTEST

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet with Mrs. F. M. Chapman of East Cypress avenue on Friday, April 13, at 2:30. Mrs. C. R. McCall will have charge of the program and will present six high school students in an oratorical silver medal contest. There will be good music.

Economic and Card Club Sections Meet

As a slight change from the regular routine of the home economics section of the Woman's club, there was no speaker at the meeting on Tuesday, the guests assembling for a community luncheon at noon at the home of the curator, Mrs. E. A. Weegar, on East Puente street. An exchange of recipes and kitchen hints interested the members, with a social hour following. In the absence of Mrs. Irvan Reynolds, who has been ill at her home, Mrs. C. D. Samuels, assisted by Mrs. E. A. Weegar and Mrs. Ralph White, took charge of the bridge party given Wednesday afternoon by the bridge section of the Woman's club and held in the clubhouse. Prizes were won by Mrs. Rowland Lord and Mrs. E. A. Pielmeier.

Schools Close Today for Spring Vacation

Covina grammar and high schools close tonight for a week of spring vacation.

At the grammar school, as closing exercises, two operettas will be given under the direction of the music department. The numbers will be "Mother Goose Opens the Door," and "The Magic Beanstalk." Parts in the latter will be taken by Douglas McElfresh, Orville Strickland, Alfred Elliott, John Bigelow, Eugene Dendehoff, Robert Wilcox, Barbara Gail, Alan Searcy, Thelma Petersen, Celeste Wilde, Virginia Ricker, Ruth Kohlmeier, Laura Lee Morlan, Dorothy Shank, Gwendolyn Emmert, Bobbie Knotts, Billy Fabrick, Jasper Kennon, Ernest Jackson.

Club Women Attend District Convention

Miss Elizabeth Elliott, president of the Woman's club, and Mrs. G. J. Wheat and Mrs. Clarence Hunter as delegates, Mrs. William Warren, appointee, and Mrs. J. R. Elliott and Mrs. E. V. Rice, alternates, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week attended the Los Angeles district convention of women's clubs being held in Santa Maria. Mrs. R. W. Cleghorn was also in attendance at the convention as a delegate from the Wednesday morning club of Los Angeles.

Congress Votes Bill for Quake Relief

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The house today completed congressional action on the Evans-McAdoo bill authorizing the Reconstruction Finance corporation to make loans for rehabilitation of the districts in southern California which were wrecked by the earthquake of March 10, 1933, or by the flood of New Year's day. The limit of such loans was fixed at five million dollars. The bill now goes to the president.

Hoepfel Votes to Override Vet Veto

John H. Hoepfel, congressman from this district, was one of the two hundred Democratic members of the house who voted last week to pass the veterans' bill over the president's veto. The veto was overridden in the house by a wide majority. In the senate, Hiram Johnson and William Gibbs McAdoo, California senators, also voted to override the veto.

Mrs. Charles Holman Not Expected to Live

After an illness of more than two years, with the past eight months spent in bed, Mrs. Charles Holman, wife of the blacksmith and ironworker on East College street, was reported at the point of death yesterday at the home, 457 Cottage Drive. Her husband said it was feared she would not live through the day.

BLACK WIDOW SPIDER MENACE IN CANYONS

A warning to hikers in the nearby canyons to watch out for black widow spiders was given this week by Don C. Bryan, San Gabriel canyon miner, who reports that the poisonous insects are plentiful this year. Bryan warns people to be careful around old boxes and lumber and around cracks in the rocks. The spider has a jet black body, generally with a red spot on the belly, and the web is very strong and glossy.

RATTLESNAKES PLENTY, OLD RESIDENTS WARN

A number of rattlesnakes have emerged from winter quarters and are plentiful in the sage brush. A number were killed last week. Children should keep out of the brush unless provided with boots. An old resident says rattlesnakes have greatly increased in recent years, probably due to destruction of their enemies, such as owls, hawks and eagles, skunks, weasels and the king snake, none of which should be killed.

L. T. L. MEETS TODAY

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the Covina L. T. L. will be held at the Baptist church this (Friday) afternoon at 3:30. Mrs. Homer M. Gilmore, leader, will have charge of the program, assisted by Mrs. M. F. Speer, Miss Mildred Brubaker, and others. Refreshments will be served by the committee. All children of school age up to fourteen years are invited to be present.

Freshman Pitcher Helps Ball Team Win League Tilt

The high school baseball team won its first league game on the home grounds yesterday by beating the Cathedral nine 20 to 8. At the outset it looked as though Cathedral would run away with the affair when they brought in four runs off the pitching of Billy Green, but Coach Correll then sent in Jesus Yirgoyen, the little freshman from Irwindale, who held the invaders to four runs for the balance of the game.

In addition to pitching a nice game of ball, Yirgoyen helped to win his game by knocking a home run. The Covina heavy hitters were all in good form, Billy Greene getting two home runs.

NOTHING NEW

They Were Kicking About Overproduction More Than 3000 Years Ago

Some time last year we pointed out an extract from Herod showing that even in the years B. C. the Greek farmer was hollering his head off about low prices and overproduction. This week we noted in the Herald-Tribune a letter from Pliny the Younger written probably 1833 years before NRA and AAA in which he complains just as a 1934 grower does, of crop losses on one property and overproduction and poor prices on another. As follows:

"A storm of hail, I am informed, has destroyed all the produce of my estate in Tuscany; while that which I have on the other side of the Po, though it has proven extremely fruitful this season, yet from excessive cheapness of everything, turns to small account."—Produce Guide.

Scout Mothers Entertain Sister Auxiliary—

Mothers of the auxiliary of Scout troop two were guests Monday of this week at luncheon of the mothers of the auxiliary of troop three, held at the home of Mrs. Katherine Birge on East Badillo street. Picnic tables for twenty-eight were arranged under the wide-spreading oak tree in the garden of Mrs. Birge's home, where delicious home-made viands were served. The guests adjourned to the livingrooms in the afternoon, where they sewed on quilts that are being made, and where Mrs. George Wheat gave two entertaining readings. Mrs. E. L. Varney, president of the entertaining group, was assisted by the various members of the organization.

Easter Bridge Luncheon at Gilbert Nigg Home—

Mrs. Gilbert Nigg and Mrs. Elmer Shirley entertained on Thursday last week with a bridge luncheon in the home of the former on Ben Lomond avenue. Spring flowers and the Easter motif were used in the decorations and table appointments. Covers were laid for Mmes. C. A. McDowell, Trask Gant, Harold Potter, E. A. Pilemeier, Glen Walker, Earl Colver, Jay Pitzer, Stanley Shaver, Edward Gloege, Harold Nigg, E. Anderson, Robert Sawyer, Guy Harris, Charles Ferguson, Beckham Marr, Howard Varcoe, Earl Harnish, Clyde Custer, and Misses Adella Hilleman and Bernice Rice. Prizes for contract bridge were won by Mrs. Shaver and Mrs. Ferguson.

Bon Voyage Party for Visitors to Hawaii—

As a bon voyage to Mrs. J. N. Wilson and her sister, Mrs. Tilton of Pasadena, who leave shortly on a trip to the Hawaiian islands, Mrs. L. G. Daniels entertained Friday with a prettily appointed Easter luncheon at her home on Workman street. The luncheon table was daintily in yellow and lavender, with Easter motifs for favors and place-cards, bearing the names of the guests of honor, Mrs. Oscar Miller, Mrs. Tom Terris, Mrs. Forest Mannings, Mrs. John McCune, Mrs. A. P. Risley, Mrs. Henry Van Ginkel, and Mrs. W. B. Fleet.

Family Gathers for Easter Welcome to Easterners—

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gates and family and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gates gathered Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Davis on East Dexter street for Easter dinner and to welcome Mrs. Bleasdel, who recently arrived from Le Mars, Iowa, to visit with her mother, Mrs. Mary L. Gates, who for some weeks has been ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Davis. Mrs. Gates' condition is reported to be improved in the past few days. In the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Young of Inglewood and Miss Elva Utzinger of Hollywood called on Mrs. Davis and her mother.

Pythian Temple Given Kitchen Shower—

The Pythian Sisters surprised the Knights of Pythias at their regular meeting Tuesday evening by storming the lodge rooms with "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here," and presenting the lodge with a kitchen shower. The gifts were presented in a new garage can and were all disguised to cause much laughter. Dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Anna Willoughby, Mrs. Robert Smith and Mrs. Emil Sedlacek, and the remainder of the evening was spent informally.

Egg Hunt Celebrates Birthday—

Sparky, small son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Farson of North Fifth street, on Friday afternoon of last week entertained with an Easter egg hunt at San Dimas park, in celebration of his fourth birthday. Invited guests for the afternoon were Kathleen Varcoe, Patricia Louise Burton, Ronald Hardy, Warren Tipton, Glen Denny Reed, Barbara Levis, Buddy and Dorothy Shaver, Betty Pitzer, Paula Nigg, Mrs. D. J. Pitzer, Mrs. Stanley Shaver, Mrs. Tom Reed, and Mrs. E. M. Lewis.

Philomathean Class Entertains at Dinner—

The Philomathean class of the Methodist church met for a community supper on Monday evening in the church parlors for the purpose of reorganizing the class to pay tribute to its leader, E. M. Bosworth, who has been the teacher of the class for the past fourteen years. The men's class has been reorganized as the Brotherhood class. The women's class, under the leadership of Mrs. Bosworth, will continue as the Philomatheans.

Legion Women Attend District Hi-Jinks—

Mrs. Robert Hutchison, Mrs. J. MacDonald and Mrs. Jack Dean on Friday attended a hi-jinks of the American Legion auxiliaries held in Alhambra. As Covina's share of the program a quartet of boys from the high school sang a group of songs. The quartet was composed of Sam Barringer, Merle Layman, David Marshall, and Gordon Jaroch.

Easterners Entertained Here Before Departure—

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Baldwin, who for the past five weeks have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Stead of East Badillo street, left yesterday for Berkeley, Oakland and Seattle, where they will visit for a short time before returning to their home in Duluth. On Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin and Mr. and Mrs. Stead were guests for dinner of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Stead in Adams park, and Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Stead and their guests attended the Chinese theater in Hollywood to see George Arliss in "The House of Rothschild."

Eastern Visitor Given Dinner Party—

Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Griffiths entertained last evening at dinner in compliment to Mrs. Betty Taylor, who is visiting her brother, Dr. J. D. Reed, from Missouri. Sweet peas and delphinium were used in artistic decoration of the dinner table, at which covers were laid for Mrs. Taylor, Dr. and Mrs. Reed, Mrs. Marian Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cushman, Mr. and Mrs. Potter, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Warner, and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Whittle.

Mrs. Knudsen Gives Easter Dinner Party—

To celebrate Easter, Mrs. M. M. Knudsen of Puente street entertained with a dinner party for a number of out-of-town relatives. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Knudsen and children, Marjorie, Reta, Junior and Arthur, of Los Angeles; Mrs. Helen Knudsen of Long Beach, and Mrs. Gertrude Robb and children, Madeline and Harvey, of San Bernardino.

Moose Women Hostesses at Successful Party—

Women of the Moose acted as co-hostesses Thursday evening of last week, when each member acted as hostess in entertaining a table of friends at a bridge party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Chevington on the Pomona hill road. Prizes for cards were won by Mrs. Ambrose Barcroft, Mrs. Fannie Kranz, George Powers, and W. F. Shultz.

Easter Dinner Occasion for Birthday Celebration—

In celebration of the birthday of their daughter, Miss Margaret, Mr. and Mrs. George Steckel entertained a few close friends at dinner on Easter Sunday at their home on Barranca street. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Widman and their son, George, and his bride, and another son, Fred, all of Hollywood.

Motion Picture Club Dines in Hollywood—

Members of the amateur motion picture club of the valley, with their wives, made a party last evening that had dinner at Levy's tavern in Hollywood, later going to the studio of Bell and Howell, where as guests of Bell and Howell they were shown reels of motion pictures. There were twenty-four in the party.

Methodist Missionary Societies in All-Day Meet—

The women's missionary societies of the Methodist church met yesterday for the April all-day gathering. Mrs. Randall Chew was in charge of home devotions, Mrs. Blanche Anderson of the midday opening, and decorations were furnished by Mrs. Charles Speer. Hostesses were Miss Mary Linegar, Mrs. W. P. Custer, Mrs. F. W. Carier.

Twenty-Fifth Annual Annual Picnic—

Ninety-four relatives of the Alexander and Maxson families met on Sunday for their annual picnic reunion in the Puente hills. For the past twenty-five years these families have held an annual get-together on Easter Sunday.

Hassheiders Entertain Luncheon Guests—

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Hassheider on Tuesday entertained at luncheon at their home on Holt avenue. Their guests were Mrs. William Pannier, Mrs. Bill Hall and son, and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Pannier of Anaheim, Mrs. Carrie Nigg, and Henry Hassheider.

Garden Members to Attend District Conference—

Mrs. E. E. Hartley and other members of the Women's club will attend on Tuesday a district conference of garden sections to be held at the Huntington Park Woman's clubhouse in conjunction with the annual spring flower show of the hostess club.

Mrs. Phillee Has Luncheon Guests—

Saturday luncheon guests of Mrs. Beulah Phillee in her home on Azusa avenue were Mrs. Faye Frederick and Annie Elliott of Los Angeles. In the evening Mrs. Phillee was a dinner guest of the above at the Old Kentucky Home in Monrovia.

English Day Motif for Program

The fourth and last of the "international days" to be given by the Woman's club this year will be an English breakfast and reciprocity day, to be held Monday, April 9, at 12 o'clock.

A typical English breakfast of three courses such as follows: the early morning roll and cup of tea, is being planned. English gardens are to be featured on the program—as drama, music and art have been featured on the programs of France, Germany and Italy, and Mrs. Grace McCann will have charge of the table decorations, promising to use the epigone that was the favorite floral piece of Queen Victoria. Other decorations, representing an English garden, will be in charge of Mrs. C. T. Booth and the flower section.

Mme. Ellen Beach Yaw, to be accompanied by Miss Georgiella Lay, will sing a group of English ballads during the luncheon hour. Mrs. Will Lee Austin, vice-president of the district federation, and Mrs. John Stearns Thayer, president of the county federation, will be the guests of honor among other guests from neighboring clubs, which will number forty or more.

Mrs. F. H. Richard has charge of the breakfast plans, with Mrs. Harry Upham and Mrs. Ralph White as hostesses. Mrs. David Unruh is the chairman of the day and will introduce as the afternoon speaker Mrs. Albert Sherman Hoyt of Pasadena. Mrs. Hoyt is the possessor of some fine hand-colored slides of English gardens, and with the showing of these, she will give an interesting talk.

Four new members have been added to the club, making the year's list seventy-five new names. They include Mrs. William Crook, who is a charter member of the Monday Afternoon club and who returns after an enforced vacation caused by illness. Mrs. Christel Levine Reichard, Mrs. Charles J. Seaver, and Miss Carlisle Gail.

Picture Council Reports on Films

Covina Motion Picture Council this week submits the following report of recent picture releases:

For Family:
"Little Women"—This picture has received superlative recommendation by all reviewers for direction, photography, cast, and theme.
"David Harmer"—Will Rogers unusually well cast in a successful adaptation of a well-known story.
"Cat and the Fiddle"—Pleasant, entertaining comedy adapted from the operetta. Attractive music and color effects.
For Adults and Adolescents:
"Eskimo"—Amazing photography in the far north. Dynamic, terrific realism is softened only by skillful and artistic direction. Depicts conflict between civilized law and primitive moral codes.
"It Happened One Night"—Clever, lively comedy with Clark Gable and Claudette Colbert. Sparkling, nonsense, diverting entertainment and excellent direction.
"Let's Fall in Love"—A Cinderella theme in Hollywood setting. Catchy music. Entertaining.
"Six of a Kind"—Clean, rough comedy featuring Charlie Ruggles, Mary Boland and Allison Skipworth. Good fun.
For Adults:
"Wonder Bar"—Popular cast plus magnificent settings bring needed interest to this elaborate musical production.
"Death Takes a Holiday"—All-gorgeous emotional drama, beautifully produced and exquisitely portrayed and directed.

Bennett-Goff

The marriage of Amos Bennett and Miss Violet L. Goff took place Easter Sunday, April 1, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Fern Goff, on Orange street, Rev. Richard Gentry performing the ceremony.

The marriage vows were taken under an arch of evergreen boughs and orange blossoms, Easter lilies and pink sweet peas forming the main floral decoration.

The bride wore an ensemble of white crepe de chine and carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas. She was attended by Mrs. Ben Hill as matron of honor, Mr. Hill attending the groom. Thirty-five relatives and close friends were in attendance. Mr. and Mrs. Bennett will make their home in Covina.

Couple Pledge Marriage Vows on Easter Sunday at Bride's Home

The marriage of Amos Bennett and Miss Violet L. Goff took place Easter Sunday, April 1, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Fern Goff, on Orange street, Rev. Richard Gentry performing the ceremony.

Amphion Club to Meet in Glendora

Altar Easter Lilies Furnish Beautiful Setting for Nuptials in Glendora Church

Before an assemblage of some one hundred and fifty friends and relatives Saturday evening, Miss Hazel Grant became the bride of Clarence Nottingham at a ceremony performed by Rev. A. T. Decker, in the Church of the Brethren in Glendora.

Easter was the motif of decoration, and potted palms and graceful palm branches were combined with potted Easter lilies to make an attractive chancel, before which the bride and groom took their places for the reading of the vows. Preceding the ceremony Miss Hazel Netzel sang "I Love You Truly" and "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life," and Mrs. Becker, seated at the organ, played the wedding marches.

BROTHER GIVES AWAY

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Claude Grant, and was attended as maid of honor by her sister, Miss Leta Grant, who wore a gown of pink sheer crepe and carried an arm bouquet of pink rosebuds. As bridesmaids, Miss Violet Ott wore a gown of blue and Loraine Gross a dress of pink, and both carried sweet peas. A dainty flower girl in blue organdie, Joyce Manchester, scattered rose petals in the bride's pathway as she approached the altar. The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Grant of Brea, and Glendora avenues, is a graduate of Covina high school in the class of 1924, and for some time has been a valued assistant in the First National bank in Glendora, which position she plans to keep after her return from her wedding trip. She chose white satin for her bridal dress, made with leg of mutton sleeves and train, and a long tulle veil caught with a coronet of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was white rose-buds and lilies of the valley, made in shower fashion. As a traveling suit she wore navy blue with white accessories. Miss Grant has been the recipient of a number of parties and showers since the announcement of her engagement, bespeaking of her popularity among her friends.

Troth Announced

Margaret Downen to Worrell F. Pruden Published

Mr. and Mrs. John Downen of the Masonic Home announce the engagement of their daughter, Margaret, to Worrell F. Pruden.

Miss Downen attended the University of California at Los Angeles and the University of Southern California, graduating from the latter institution in the class of '31.

Mr. Pruden graduated from the California Institute of Technology in '32, receiving his master's degree from the same institution last June. He is now employed as a structural engineer on the southern California school reconstruction program, and at present is located in Long Beach, where the young couple will reside.

Blue Birds Guests at Home of Boyds

Jean Boyd, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anson Boyd of Ruddock street, was hostess Saturday afternoon to the members of the Blue Birds and their leader, Mrs. Harold Harrington, at an Easter party.

Egg rolling, an Easter egg relay race, and other exciting games, both indoors and out, were provided for the entertainment of the children. Expressions of delight were heard on every hand when they were seated at a table for refreshments, a large Easter bunny surveying the table, prettily appointed with seasonal favors, eggs and candy rabbits and chicks.

Stewart-Burns

The marriage of Mrs. J. H. Burns to A. E. Stewart of Anaheim took place Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the home of the former's daughter, Mrs. J. S. Bacon, in Baldwin Park. There were about twenty-five in attendance, relatives of the couple and intimate friends, many of them from Covina. A buffet supper followed the reading of the marriage vows. The couple plan to make an extended wedding trip in the east and will make their home in Anaheim.

AMARYLLIS IN BLOOM

Mrs. David Foster of West San Bernardino road has an amaryllis bed in full bloom, with scores of beautiful blossoms. These plants are from her own propagation and are of unusual interest to the fancier.

Anniversary Celebrated by 'Y.W.'

Members and friends of the Young Women's Christian association met Tuesday at a 6:30 dinner at Azusa Woman's clubhouse to celebrate the third anniversary of the San Gabriel valley Y.W.C.A. The tables were decorated with spring flowers and covers were laid for ninety-five.

"Moving Forward with the Y.W.C.A." was an address given by Mrs. Kyle Rodenback of Claremont, who said "The Y.W.C.A. is old enough to have a history and young enough to have a future."

Mrs. Mary M. Coman, president, expressed her appreciation for the work of the past year, and greetings were brought by Mrs. Paul Mucks, president of the Woman's club, and by Arthur Durward, president of the Y.M.C.A. of San Gabriel valley. During the business meeting, Mrs. Oscar Miller, treasurer, showed a balanced budget for the year. The nominating committee, of which Mrs. C. A. Griffith was chairman, submitted the following nominees, who were re-elected: president, Mrs. M. M. Coman, Covina; first vice, Mrs. Earl Comstock, Glendora; second vice, Mrs. C. B. Griffith, Azusa; secretary, Mrs. Helen Hussey, Baldwin Park; treasurer, Mrs. Oscar Miller, Covina.

Lark Ellen Bowl to Open in June

The series of six symphony concerts to be given in Lark Ellen Echo bowl on the hillside of Ellen Beach Yaw's home semi-monthly during June, July and August, will begin Monday evening, June 11.

This "little symphony" comprises leading musicians of the San Gabriel valley who have been playing for the past six years under the direction of Vernon Robinson. The programs will follow the plan of those given at the Hollywood bowl and other great symphony organizations.

FASHION TIPS

Hollywood bathing suits—the very latest in skirlless one and two-piece swim suits in lacquer red, California (yellow), Monterey blue, sea spray (aquamarine), Balboa blue, sea brown, and many other new shades. These suits are all made of the best yarns and good dye, and the styles are so smart they sell themselves. Most of them are one-piece, although there are models of shorts and brassiere style. Many nautical trimmings. Priced at $5 and up, but they are the niftiest yet.

Oakbrook has recently completed a new flawless and ringless hose of lovely sheer chiffon and summer shades that sell for only $1.50. Their 54-gauge hose that formerly sold for $2.25 is reduced to $1.50.

You'll want several play suits for beach and tennis when you see the stunning three-piece suits of seersucker or linen. The three-piece has a wrap-around skirt that matches the shorts and blouse. Priced at $1.95 and $2.95.

Wash frocks continue in greater popularity as the season advances. A line of voiles are due this week that will sell for $5.95. Suitable for graduation, afternoon or evening affairs, and many of them tailored for warm days in the office or shop.

If you are considering a formal, see the gingham, lawn and linens before deciding.

Smartly-fashioned prints that sell for $1.95.

One of the smartest suits of the season is a plaid French gingham dress with a long white linen coat with wide revers of the gingham, priced at $15.75.

New flannel slacks, some with nautical lacings, at $3.95; plain ones, $2.95.

TOWN CHATTER

Was Russell Davis embarrassed, when he was forced to dig down into the old jeans for two dollars fine for the purchase of a Chevrolet from Doc Miller? It is the custom of the Rotary club to fine every member two dollars when he purchases a new car. After all dues had been paid, Russell was called upon for his fine, the complaint being that he had purchased a Chevy from Doc Miller, giving in return a Ford.

Three nonchalant bachelors, Bosworth, Shaw, and Bosworth, spending an enjoyable evening at the Fox Pomona last Saturday night.

And we observed George Longworth having a jolly old time on Balboa Isle when one of those "restrained" clubs from P. J. C. spent a few days there. The club?—"rostrum" by name.

Did Dorothy Hall look like the money in her stunning Easter outfit of white with red trimmings and a Mae West hat to match? No foolin'!

TOWNSITES: Considerable conjecture as to the menu of an English breakfast and the many reservations being made for same. . . . Isabel White hunting uniforms for breakfast waitresses. . . . working girls, neat in their wash frocks for spring. . . . Balboa's popular dance floor the trecca of many Covina trippers. . . . many heads needing attention since Helen's departure. . . . the sweet odor of orange blossoms as one approaches the orange district is lost on the residents until they are away for a time.

So we discovered Eldon Gordon disporting himself with fairy-like gestures in the white caps at Balboa beach a short time ago.

The next person around town who cuts loose with, "Oh, you nasty man" ought to be shot at sunrise, or hung up by the ears to dry. What this country needs is a "change-your-gag-a-week" man.

Bernard B. Phillips Dies at La Verne

After several years of failing health, Bernard B. Phillips, brother of Mrs. W. P. Pollard of Covina, and for nine years caretaker at the David and Margaret home for children in La Verne, died Saturday morning from an attack of influenza. He was in his seventy-eighth year.

Mr. Phillips was born in Clifton, North Carolina, August 11, 1856. As a young man of eighteen he graduated from the Christian college at Fort Worth, Texas, and all his life was devoted to Christian work, noted for his love of children and flowers. He was at work in his garden on the day before his death. Although for several years badly incapacitated by asthma, he loved his garden, and was an expert in horticulture.

His death occurred at his home, 1750 West Fifth street, La Verne, and the funeral was held at Pomona, conducted by Rev. Francis Arant of the Christian church of Covina. Burial was in Evergreen cemetery in La Verne.

The deceased leaves five sisters and five brothers, who are: Mrs. Stolle Erasmus of Joshua, Texas; Mrs. Rena Newlin, Huntington Park; Miss Mattie and Bessie Phillips, with whom he lived in La Verne; Mrs. W. P. Pollard of Covina; W. A. Phillips of Los Angeles; R. D. Phillips, Riverside; Ray Phillips, Ontario; Millard Phillips, Downey; Lloyd Phillips, Ventura. The pallbearers were his five brothers and a nephew, Shelton Bomar.

W. C. T. U. to Hold Regional Conference

Southern California has been selected as one of the twenty-five states to have a national conference of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and the public in general is invited to attend and hear the national president, Dr. Ida B. Wise Smith.

This conference will be held in the First Methodist church, Eighth and Hope streets, Los Angeles, Wednesday, April 11, beginning at 9:45 a. m. There will also be an evening session. Luncheon will be served at the church at 12:30, at which time Judge Bledsoe will be one of the speakers. More than twelve hundred delegates are expected.

WORDS ARE TOOLS OF ADVERTISING EXPERT

Words are likened to a commodity, and declared to be worth their weight in gold when properly used, by Alta Guinn Saunders, associate professor of English at the University of Illinois, who will come to Los Angeles next June in order to conduct special courses in advertising and merchandising at the summer session of the University of California at Los Angeles.

The style of the Bible, together with that of Bunyan, Burns and Lincoln, is cited by Mrs. Saunders to illustrate the effective use of plain, simple words designed to interest the greatest number of people.

"For a long time florists advertised, 'send flowers' or 'express love with flowers.' But it took the expert copy writer to express it with a phrase that has become a national byword, 'say it with flowers,' a phrase with appeal to the poet in everyone," declares Mrs. Saunders in explaining how words, when expertly used, pay large dividends.

E. A. COOPER, COVINA RANCHER, RETURNS FROM WORLD-TOUR

While he has many beautiful scenes to remember, of countries that are well worth study, and of self-sustaining and happy people, he cannot forget the destination seen in India, and in some other countries, said E. A. Cooper, Covina valley orange grower, whose home is at the corner of Covina boulevard and Azusa avenue.

Mr. Cooper last week returned from a trip that began on October 6 of last year, taking passage on the steamer President Hoover at San Francisco. He was in a Pathfinders' tour party, conducted by Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Donaldson, and which included Mrs. Stanton, Mrs. Elder and Mrs. Cochran of Los Angeles, Mrs. Baxter of Seattle, Mrs. Gates of Belingham, Dr. and Mrs. Jean and Mrs. Green of Santa Barbara, and Mrs. Glasher of Chicago.

They stopped in Honolulu one day, and went to Japan, China and Korea, Indo-China, Siam, and Java, the latter place very interesting to Mr. Cooper. At Bali he was much interested in the methods of farming, and spoke of the fine people and atmosphere of contentment.

A feature to Mr. Cooper was the trip by airplane from Cairo to Alexandria, flying over the country that is known as the mother of the world. They took the boat at Alexandria to Naples, visiting the ruins of Pompeii. At Marseilles in France they took passage for New York, experiencing a pleasant trip of twelve days to New York, but were delayed considerably in entering the harbor on account of the dense fog.

Across the country by train from New York, Mr. Cooper said that he saw the most severe weather of the trip. The March storms were the worst in many years, he said.

If asked what interested him most, Mr. Cooper said that it was the country that has been the most written about and is known best, perhaps, through the world, that of Palestine. The scenes so familiar in history of the valley of the Jordan, the Dead Sea, and the ancient city of Jerusalem, now undergoing many changes, were of exceptional interest.

"We know nothing of restitution in the United States," Mr. Cooper said. "In India I was appalled and saddened by the utter poverty, especially the suffering of the incredible numbers of children. In this country their religion interferes with their progress. They are the very wealthy and the very poor, and the country seems hopelessly entangled in traditions and customs."

Democrats Planning Glendora Meeting

At the invitation of G. F. Rinehart, the twelfth congressional district allied Democratic clubs will meet next Thursday evening, April 12, to commemorate the birthday anniversary of the patron saint of democracy, Thomas Jefferson.

The affair will be a dinner given by the clubwomen at 830 sharp, and is open to anyone as long as the tickets last. The dinner will be 50 cents, and during the meal the diners will be entertained by a program of music and tap dancing.

The speech of the evening will be delivered by Hon. Leslie E. Hubbard, Los Angeles attorney, formerly attorney general of Colorado.

Covina Wins Runner-Up Baseball Trophy

San Diego Takes Championship in Diamond Tourney

Climaxing the second annual three-day high school baseball tournament sponsored by the Pomona "Twenty-Three" club, the strong San Diego high school nine won the championship as well as the $210 trophy. It was at the hands of San Diego that Covina suffered its only defeat of the tournament, as the staid bunch of boys from the south triumphed the Colts 16-2 in the final game of the tournament. However, the Colts annexed a good-sized trophy for being runner-up in the tournament.

The superiority of the San Diegans was shown thruout, as the second man up knocked a home run, and two more home runs were added before the end of the game. The heavy San Diego slugger found Poore, Greene and Yirgoyen for twenty hits, while the Colts collected seven hits from the San Diego hurler, Tallamanti, pitcher for the winners, who caused the retirement of eight Covina men, while no San Diego man allowed himself to be whiffed.

Jack Howard was the best Colt batter of the day, hitting a double and a single in four times at bat. Randolph was far the best performer of the tilt, with a home run, a three-bagger, two doubles and a single in six times at bat.

Freshman Colt Pitcher Holds Brea Hitless

The Covina high school baseball squad survived thru the second elimination of the baseball tourney held at Pomona last weekend when, after allowing only three hits and one run during the first two innings, Jesus Yirgoyen, freshman hurler, pitched shutout ball the rest of the game and the Colts defeated Brea-Olinda by a 2-1 score.

The game opened with Hennessy, Brea-Olinda catcher, knocking a two-bagger. Sashley hit a single to left field, while the Colts collected seven hits from the San Diego hurler, Tallamanti, pitcher for the winners, who caused the retirement of eight Covina men, while no San Diego man allowed himself to be whiffed.

Jack Howard was the best Colt batter of the day, hitting a double and a single in four times at bat. Randolph was far the best performer of the tilt, with a home run, a three-bagger, two doubles and a single in six times at bat.

Alex Folmer won the pro's low net with gross 72, handicap 1, net 71. George Batchelor won the blind bogie when the number 71 again proved lucky. He shot 81-10, net 71.

Three on Mound as Colts Bury Santa Paula

Three Colt hurlers led Coach Gorrell's varsity nine into the finals of the baseball tournament last Saturday morning, as Covina took the fourth win in three days by wallowing the Santa Paula nine 19-2 in a seven-inning affair on the Pomona high school diamond. Herbie Rouch started on the mound and was relieved by Greene, who in turn was replaced by Ernie Poore. Poore's reign held the losers for no hits and also scoreless.

Santa Paula's runs came in the second and third innings. In the second a three-bagger was followed by a single to push across the first Santa Paula score, and in the third a double likewise was trailed by a single to finish the losers' score sheet.

A double and two singles accounted for three Covina runs in the first, the Colts were shut out in the second, but came back in the third to score twice more on two hits. They were again shut out in the fourth, but were back again in the fifth to account for three more tallies, and in the sixth five Gorrellmen crossed the plate. The Colts really rallied in the seventh, when five singles and a double tallied six runs. Billy Greene led the Colts' seventeen-hit attack with four singles in five trips to the plate. Hege showed out a double and two singles, while Jones swatted three bingles to follow Greene.

Moore, Santa Paula pitcher, batted high for the losers, accounting for half the total Santa Paula hits with a three-bagger and a single in three times at bat.

Timely Hitting Wins Game With Santa Maria

Covina's Galloping Colts advanced another step in the baseball tournament at Pomona by defeating Santa Maria 5-2, and winning the second ball game on Friday.

Although garnering only five hits, the Colts hit at timely moments to push in their runs. Neither team hit or scored in the first inning, but Santa Maria rallied in the second to score their two-run total on two hits. The Colts gathered two hits but were held scoreless until the fourth inning, when Bobby Jones binged to first and Hege came up next to swat a homer and tied up the score at two all. The fifth inning again found Burdum, Santa Maria pitcher, weakening. Poore got to first, Howard was hit with the ball, advancing Poore to second, then Greene walked, putting three men on bases. The next batter, Jones, smashed out a terrific two-bagger for his third hit in three times at bat, sending in the remaining three Covina runs. Adding to Jones' two-bagger and a pair of singles was Hege's home run and Poore's bingle. The four Santa Maria hits were singles and it took four men to account for them.

Three Colt twirlers were used, namely, Hege, who pitched the first two innings, then Rouch, and last, Yirgoyen finished the game, allowing the losers no hits nor score while he was pitching.

FULLERTON CLEANS UP ON COVINA COLTS' CINDERPATH

The well-balanced Fullerton Hi track and field team swamped the Covina cinderpath artists 63-41 on the Covina oval last Wednesday afternoon by taking nine of the twelve possible wins, and a clean sweep in the 100-yard event.

Outstanding performers of the day were Berkeley Steadman and Raitt of Fullerton. Berkeley, negro high-stepper, led both hurdle events ahead of a slow field, and won the high jump with a 5 ft. 9 in. leap. Steadman, who is one of the fastest prep sprinters in southern California, won the century in 10 flat, and easily came out first in the 220 to score 10 points for the winners. Raitt won the shotput event with a heave of 49 ft. 6 in., which is the farthest throw recorded on the local oval this season.

Class B's Track Team Bows to Fast Visitors

The Covina class B track and field team felt the sting of a 79-16 defeat at the hands of the Fullerton B's on Wednesday afternoon on the Covina field. The winners took clean sweeps in the 100, 1320, broad jump, and the high hurdles. Theodore Neely again took the only Covina win, tossing the shot 43 ft. 2 in. Neely also took third in the low hurdles to be Covina's high-point man. Ernie Young took second in the 100. Art Milliken and Goodell tied for second in the high jump, Jim Vincent tied with a Fullerton man in the pole vault, and Gysin was third in the 660 to total Covina's 16 points. Christiansen won the 100 and the broad jump to score high for the winners. Fullerton won the relay.

The three Covina wins were accounted for by Poore, Holbrook and Becker. Poore led the broad jumpers with a 20 ft. 2 in. jump, Holbrook with a last-turn sprint won the half mile, and Becker took the mile. With only four runners entered, Daugherty and Flick took second and third respectively in the sicks for Covina, while Birge Shaw was able to snag third place for Coach Pendleton with three men running the mile.

Tate and Miller followed Steadman to finish the clean sweep in the 100 for the victors.

The only tie of the meet was in the pole vault, with Mills and Vincent of Covina going no higher than 10.3, following Nash of Fullerton, who won the event at 10.6.

Also McClure gave "Onk" about the biggest surprise of the day when he put on a final sprint to nose out two Fullerton lads and take second in the 880.

The 440 was won by Schulte of the visitors, who did the lap in 53.6 seconds. Hughes led most of the way but the pace was too much for him and he fell back to third.

Fullerton won the relay.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO RECALL

Notice is hereby given by the undersigned, a qualified elector of the City of West Covina, that a petition for the recall of Robert H. Neely, councilman of West Covina, California, will be circulated for signatures of the qualified electors of said city, after May 1st, 1934, for the following reason, to-wit:

That the said Robert H. Neely accepted compensation from the City of West Covina for services rendered and material furnished, contrary to law, as provided in Chapter VII, Article II, Section 855 of the General Laws of the State of California, governing municipal corporations of the sixth class.

Peak of 69,000 Men Reached by CWA

Figures are released following the official closing of CWA projects, showing some of the results accomplished in nineteen weeks of operation, from records of County Director Major Donald H. Connolly. The engineering division disclosed that approximately $16,000 was disbursed in Los Angeles county for wages and materials on construction projects.

The city of Los Angeles shared in the construction expenditure to approximately $5,000,000. The largest number of men employed at any one time was approximately 69,000.

Heavy Avocado Crop Predicted

Warm weather and the present heavy bloom on avocado trees throughout southern California are giving promise of a huge 1935 season avocado crop, according to Ross G. Gast, of the agricultural department of the Los Angeles chamber of commerce, this week in the April crop report. Considerable concern is now being manifested by growers as to how a crop that could easily be from three to five times that of this season, could be successfully marketed, the report states.

HIGH SCHOOL IN THROES OF MUSICAL COMEDY

Life as it is supposed to go on in Drinkwater's cantatorium is to be portrayed by the music department of Covina high school on Friday night, May 4, thru the medium of the musical comedy, "Oh! Doctor!"

There are three doctors that have lead roles, also many pretty nurses and other adjuncts of a sanitarium, and it seems that they all sing and dance, which is surprising and interesting.

An account of the cast and plot is being prepared for publication, and it is expected that the show will be one of the most successful activities of the school year.

Will Rogers in 'David Harum' at Covina Theater

Starting at the Covina theater yesterday and continuing today (Friday) and tomorrow, is the latest Will Rogers release, "David Harum." This is a picturization of the well-known book and the part of country banker and horse trader is exactly suited to Rogers' style. News, varieties and a "Tarzan" chapter complete the program.

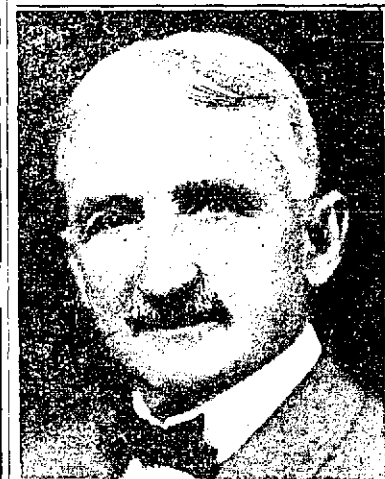

Sunday and Monday will bring Kay Francis and Ricardo Cortez in "Mandalay." The plot and settings of the story are said to afford a glamorous vehicle for Kay Francis.

On Tuesday and Wednesday Edmund Lowe and Marian Jordan will be shown in "Let's Fall in Love," a musical romance. Also on this program will be Lionel Barrymore and May Robson in "One Man's Journey."

Starting Thursday will be "Paddy the Next Best Thing," starring Janet Gaynor and Warner Baxter. With this will be "Six of a Kind," a comedy-drama with Charlie Ruggles, W. C. Fields, George Burns and Gracie Allen.

legislation in Washington. He spoke of the remarkable vote battle when the bill to restore veterans to former status on the pension rolls was passed over the president's veto, and of the national securities act and other highly important legislation.

Judge Tom Reed reported on the coming convention at Santa Cruz, June 14, 15 and 16, to which delegates from the Covina organization will be sent. All members are urged to make a rapid return on minstrel show tickets to Harold Potter of the Covina Toggery.

More Now Known About Hay Fever

By CALIFORNIA MEDICAL ASSOCIATION

Not long ago pedestrians in a downtown street of a certain California city craned their necks to watch an individual who seemed to be conducting some strange performance on the eighteenth story balcony of the city hall.

The performer was a medical worker. He was setting up vaseline-coated plates upon which to catch pollen from grasses and shrubs blown by the breeze.

His task formed but one small phase of a gigantic task, that of catching "on the fly," classifying and estimating as to quantity the numerous atmospheric pollens common to this particular city in one year's time. He was one of a vast army enlisted in the war against hay fever.

Since the beginning of civilization man has fought hay fever, but with indifferent success until recent years. The pollen that blew in from the fields and pastures of ancient Egypt brought hay fever to kings and commoners, rich and poor alike.

It is estimated that in the United States today 5,000,000 persons suffer from seasonal or perennial hay fever. But there is hope for the millions of today, where there was none for the tribes of early Egypt. The American medical profession has taken the lead in this ages-old battle.

Greatest advances have come within the last ten years, one of the most notable being the recognition of food allergy as one cause of hay fever. That is to say, not only the microscopic pollen, but the food on which it feeds, may bring about the symptoms of hay fever or asthma.

Others develop the symptoms in a household where a dog or cat is kept, and one physician reported that relief was obtained for a child simply by doing away with feather pillows.

Diagnosis of pollen sensitivity is made possible thru skin testing. The modern allergist rubs dry pollen or extracts of pollen into tiny scratches upon the arm, or else injects the extracts into the skin. A hive-like swelling around the scratch indicates the pollen to which the patient is sensitive.

By this method, when the pollen to which the patient is sensitive is ascertained, hypodermic injections of the extract of this pollen are given in increasing strength until immunity develops. This treatment is continued thru the season in which this particular pollen prevails.

Some hay fever patients have exaggerated symptoms because of their intolerance of certain foods. Men and women employed in factories where certain dusts are found may develop the symptoms.

IDYLLWILD GIRL CHOSEN SOLOIST IN PLAY "RAMONA"

Announcement was made this week in by more than a score of southern California vocalists. She was chosen for the volume as well as the quality of her voice. Other soloists in the play this year will be Ed Newman, concert baritone, who will sing the inspirational "Invocation to the Sun," and Viola Ellis Walker, operatic contralto, who will sing "Majella, the Wood Dove." Jose Arias and his Mexican troupe will again provide the instrumental music for the play.

"Don Pasquale" for Valley Opera Club

San Gabriel Valley Opera Reading club will hold its next meeting on April 13 at the Huntington hotel in Pasadena at ten o'clock in the morning. "Don Pasquale," by Donizetti, is the opera chosen by Frederick Vance Evans for analysis.

He will be assisted by Jean Colwell Houghton, soprano, in the role of Norina; Otto Plotz, tenor, as Ernesto; Charles Ross as Dr. Malatesta, and Tudor Williams as Don Pasquale, with Mrs. L. R. Peck as pianist.

Many of the members of the club plan to remain at the hotel for the luncheon and will spend the afternoon playing bridge. They will be shown thru the art gallery, known

Prices Boosted by Motor-Car Makers

Announcing two new 1934 G-E REFRIGERATORS

Beautiful!

SAYS THE HOUSEWIFE—
"I appreciate the smart styling, gleaming white surfaces and simple lines that will add a new modern note of beauty to my kitchen."

SAYS THE DESIGNER—
"Here is style the years can't obsolete—design that not only harmonizes with kitchens of today but fits as perfectly into the style theme of the kitchen of tomorrow."

SAYS THE ENGINEER—
"I recognize in the sturdy strength of the all-steel cabinets, outward expression of the matchless quality of their famous mechanism."

DISTINGUISHED style is now added to the matchless mechanism of General Electric. The refrigerator that has long held leadership in performance now sets new standards of beauty in modern styling.

See these new de luxe models before you buy any refrigerator. They are now on display at our show rooms.

Note These G-E Features
